The Spice Trails

LATIN AMERICA

A distinctive culinary travelogue series where spices are the hero, as the story takes us on an adventurous tour of the discovery of spices across Latin America. With a cinematic view, sweeping aerial shots, and varied high & low shots in 4K UHD, the series captures the splendour of the vast expanse of Mexico, Guatemala, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, and Argentina.

In this series, the viewer will be taken on an adventure and meet local spice farmers, traders, chefs throughout the travels and learn more about spices and their culinary and medicinal usage. This quest leads to the discovery of the history, culture, picturesque landscapes, and the wealth of gastronomical wonders that Latin America has to offer. In every episode we choose one of the spices as the 'Queen Spice' for the region being explored, based on a mix of their uniqueness, variety of uses, their influence on cultural traditions and their popularity in local gastronomy.
